Certification News:

We would like to bring to your attention that the NKBA's newest certification, the CKBP will be undergoing some changes! A review of all content, skills and knowledge requirements, will be reevaluated to enhance the CKBP certification. NKBA will utilize the Certification Task Force as a resource to create a certification that better meets the needs of the members and the industry, and stands apart from our design exams. Based upon the recommendation from the Certification Task Force and approved by EXCO and BOD, while the certification is being restructured, the CKBP will be suspended as a certification offering. We are looking forward to the reintroduction of this industry professional certification!
